2. Section Criteria for Successful Candidates

- A. Among qualified applicants, scores calculated based on the weighting ratio for each selection factor will be totaled. Final successful candidates will be selected in order of highest scores, filling 100% of the recruitment quota.
- B. Applicants failing to meet special qualification criteria will be rejected. Any disadvantage arising from failure to verify such criteria rests solely with the applicant.
- C. Applicants to the Performing Arts Music or Fine Arts majors scoring less than 40% of the practical exam score will be failed..
- D. Failure to attend the interview or practical exam will result in fail.
- E. When calculating scores for each selection criterion, all values in the calculation process are treated as infinite and summed. The final score is rounded to the nearest hundredth and displayed to two decimal places.
- F. Applicants who fail to meet the eligibility criteria, are disqualified in the document review, fail to submit required supporting documents for the relevant selection process, or commit misconduct in any examination will be deemed “failed.”
- G. Applicants who apply using fraudulent methods or who cooperate in such methods to obstruct the fair selection of students may have their admission revoked or invalidated and may face additional penalties.
- H. Even if an applicant’s admission screening score falls within the recruitment quota, the university may decide not to select them as an admitted student if it is deemed inappropriate to grant admission.

VII. Important Notes for Applicant

- Students who apply more than six times across all admissions processes in the rolling admissions period will not be granted eligibility for any of those applications.
 - Category 2(Overseas Koreans and Foreign Nationals), Category 6 (North Korean Defectors), Category 7 (Entire Curriculum Completion Applicants)
 - Category 6(International students with both parents being international students) has no application limit.
- The application count applies to all admissions processes applied for in the rolling admissions period, regardless of the number of universities applied to. If applying multiple times to a single university, each application counts as one application.
- Applicants admitted in the Spring semester of the same academic year are ineligible to apply for the Fall semester. (Applied to Category 7)

1. The submitted application for admission cannot be canceled, and the applied department or major cannot be changed. Applicants can select one recruitment unit and apply for only one selection.
2. Submitted applicaion fees and documents are non-refundable. However, if and applicant notifies in advance that they are unable to attend the oral interview (practical skills) exam due to force majeure* beyond their control, and the reason is deemed valid, a partial refund of the application fee may be granted. Application fees will not be refunded for simple absence from the interview exam due to personal circumstances.
 - * Reasons qualifying for refund include natural disasters, illness of the examinee, or failure to attend due to a change in the examination date after the fact.
3. All announcements during the selection period will be posted on the university's admissions information website. (However, successful candidates will be notified individually.)
4. On the day of the exam, you must bring identification verifying your identity and writing utensils. No mobile phones, communication devices, recording devices, cameras, or similar items are permitted in the exam room. If the use of a mobile phone, communication device, recording device, camera, or similar item is confirmed during the exam, you will be disqualified.
5. Final Successful candidates may not apply for the regular or additional admissions.
6. Applicants shall bear responsibility for any disadvantages (including cancellation of admission) resulting from incomplete required documents, errors or omissions in submitted information, failure to meet requirements specified in the admissions guidelines, unclear addresses, loss of contact (e.g., during announcement of successful candidates), or failure to complete entry procedures.

7. If it is confirmed during enrollment or attendance that admission was obtained through fraudulent means such as forgery, alteration, or translation errors in application documents, admission approval will be revoked. If the student has already graduated, their academic record will be expunged. Should criminal liability arise, legal action will be taken in accordance with relevant laws and regulations.
8. Applicants with conditional eligibility, such as prospective graduates, must submit additional eligibility documents within three days of the start of classes after admission. Failure to submit these documents by the designated deadline without special reason, or failure to meet eligibility requirements, will result in admission revocation.
9. Matters not specified in this admission guide will be handled according to the university's admission procedures and regulations.
